Executive Summary

Brian Zacharias is a principal at Hemming Morse with more than twenty years of experience in financial consulting and business valuation, including advising companies on a diverse range of complex matters involving financial, litigation, and valuation issues.

Brian has worked on hundreds of engagements across a wide range of industries, including technology, life sciences, medical device, middle market, and agriculture. He has assisted clients in high exposure situations in initial public offerings, acquisitions, corporate restructure transactions, and bankruptcy reorganizations. Has also assisted clients with valuation inquiries and reviews by the Public Companies Oversight Board (PCAOB) and Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC).

Brian also has significant financial advisory experience in mergers and acquisitions due diligence and turnaround management. He has led due diligence efforts that have assisted his clients in negotiating key deal terms, negotiated with creditors to recapitalize companies, and helped management teams define strategic direction. His litigation and forensic experience extends to assisting clients on matters including economic damages, breach of contract, fraud, and business and intellectual property disputes.

Actively involved in the valuation community, Brian co-founded and chaired the Executive Committee of the Fair Value Exchange, a professional group focused on best practices within the valuation field.
